Bicycle security initiative and free u-lock raffle

Protective Services is holding a bicycle security initiative during April and May. During this “Use a U-Lock” initiative, we will be putting gentle reminders on bikes that are secured by less-than-ideal methods, posting relevant information to the Protective Services' Facebook page, and raffling off eight sturdy Kryptonite brand U-locks (one each week). All that is required for entry into the weekly drawings is an email to Steve Manley at stephenmanley@wustl.edu with your contact information. To take possession of the lock, winners must have valid WUSM ID badges.

Bike tune-ups by Big Shark on April 10

April is Active Transportation Month at Washington University in St. Louis. On Monday, April 10, the Active Transportation Month will kick off with the first bike tune-ups performed by Big Shark's technicians in Hope Plaza. Bike tune-ups will be available from 10:30 am to 2:30 pm.

We continue to encourage WUSM commuters to look for more sustainable ways to commute to campus including walking, biking and Metro transit. The increased physical activity is both healthy and impacts the environment much less than traditional commuting by single occupancy vehicle. Sustainable transportation methods are the key to sustainable growth at the medical campus.

If you would like to share your Active Transportation Month initiatives, please send an e-mail to Ken Zimmerman Jr. at zimmermk@wustl.edu. Pairing up your Active Transportation Month initiatives with the Wash U Moves Challenge can set you on your way to healthy habits.
