

Workplace Lactation Information

WUSM HR Policy: Washington University is committed to supporting employees who choose to breastfeed or express milk during work hours. The university provides multiple appropriate locations and a reasonable amount of break time to accommodate employees who are nursing mothers for a period of at least 12 months after the birth of the nursing child.

For additional information, please visit:

<https://hr.wustl.edu/places/infant-nursing-rooms/>

Register for the Program

In order to maintain security and privacy, nearly all WUSM-managed lactation rooms require registration to access them. To register for the program, please fill out the form at:

<https://facilities.med.wustl.edu/lactation-room-registration/>

Lactation Room Program

In order to support breastfeeding mothers, WUSM and Barnes-Jewish Hospital provide designated lactation spaces across the medical campus. For more information, please visit: <https://facilities.med.wustl.edu/services/lactation-room/>

Operations & Facilities
Management

Objectives

- To provide awareness to the medical campus on the importance of breastfeeding
- To reduce obstacles for new mothers and to increase infant wellness
- To increase awareness of both the program and the value of new mothers in the workplace with management

Questions? Please contact Melanie Strowmatt at fmdlactationprogramfeedback@wusm.wustl.edu.